In August last, the Democratic organ in this city misrepresented Mr. Maynard's position on the Civil Rights Bill for the purpose of influencing the county elections. He was reported as saying things he never said, and the misrepresentation was never corrected. The Democratic papers all over the State repeated the misrepresentation. Judge Porter, his competitor, has taken it up and given it currency. All the one-horse Democratic politicians join in the chorus, and tell those who Tean, on are weak enough to sit and listen to WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1874, them, that Horace May-nard is in favor of the passage of the Senate Civil Rights Bill without any change. Mr.
Maynard stated to the contrary in his Thorn Grove speech, and has repeated his statement in every speech he has made. These men who continue to misrepresent him, know full well and all the right said company has of mining upthat in so doing they repeat that which is false. In the good "days of yore" statements made under such eireumstances, were pronounced lies. In these latter days, they are possibly due in 6, 12 and 18 months, bearing interest from sometimes called by softer names.

ELSEWHERE in this issue of the CHRONICLE, over the signature of "Energy," we publish a communicetion containing suggestions well execute Notes with approved security, bearing cation containing suggestions well worthy of consideration. We will say for our correspondent that he is not an office holder nor an office seeker, but a gentleman well known throughont East Tennessee and universally respected. The matters alluded to are of the gravest concern to all who feel an interest in the preservation of the honor and credit of the Government, both State and Nation al. They should be checked in the most summary way. Honest men should spurn them with contempt, and hiss them out of notice.

heartily approve. The principles of the Republican party in Tennessee are worth fighting for. A gallant defense even with temporary defeat, if per-chance defeat should come, is more to be admired than a base surrender. Let us plant the banner of peace, law and order, honesty and economy, upon our ramparts and battle henceforth with all the power that the God of Right and Justice has given us. Victory will crown our efforts sooner or later. The right must prevail! "Truth crushed to earth will rise again!" Read the communication.
